Descriptions:

CITES Listing:

Appendix I - Appendix I includes species threatened with extinction and provides the greatest level of protection, including a prohibition on commercial trade.

Appendix II - Appendix II includes species that are not currently threatened with extinction, but may become so without trade controls. Regulated trade is allowed if the exporting country issues a permit based on findings that the specimens were legally acquired and the trade will not be detrimental to the survival of the species or its role in the ecosystem.

Appendix III – Appendix III includes species for which a country has asked other CITES Parties to help control international trade. Trade in Appendix III species is regulated using CITES export permits (issued by the country that listed the species in Appendix III) and certificates of origin (issued by all other countries) (<https://cites.org/eng/disc/how.php>).
