Dear Professor Castillo,

We refer to your recent email to Professors Robert Ackland and Larry Saha regarding Miguel Lattz's PhD thesis. After consultation with Professors Ackland and Saha, we would like to inform you that we hope you are willing to continue with your examination of this thesis. Any concerns you have about the thesis and suggestions for improvement should be detailed in your examination report. In accordance with the ANU's policy for PhD thesis examinations, the candidate will be required to write a response to the examiners reports (and this can include a providing a rebuttal to criticisms) and will also be required to make any revisions to the thesis that are deemed necessary (by the panel members and the Head of School) for the thesis to be considered to be of a passing standard. Depending on the examiner reports and the recommendation of the panel members and head of school, these revisions may be minor or major, and in some situations the revised thesis might be re-examined.

Please note that due to the confidential nature of the thesis examination, there should be no contact between the supervisory panel and the examiners until after the examination process is completed. That is why Professor Ackland has passed your email to our office to respond to. If you have any other queries regarding this matter please do not hesitate to contact our office.

We thank you for agreeing to examine this PhD thesis and please contact this office if you have any other questions or concerns.

Kind regards,

Robyne
