Daniel Kocot

Senior Solution Architect / Head of API Experience and Operations

Daniel has been part of the codecentric team since October 2016. Since the beginning of 2022 he works as Senior Solution Architect at the Dortmund branch. Starting as a consultant with a focus on application lifecycle management, his focus shifted more and more towards APIs. In addition to numerous customer projects and his involvement in the open source world around APIs, our Head of API Experience & Operations is also a frequent speaker at conferences.

Giri Venkatesan

Developer Advocate, Office of the CTO at Solace

Giri Venkatesan, a follower and proponent of AsyncAPI and teams up with companies & SIs to design event-driven architecture and asynchronous APIs. To guide those discussions, I draw upon years of integration and implementation experience, particularly with Solace platforms. I've been a follower of AsyncAPI since 2022, and written blogs and delivered talks at conferences and AsyncAPI conference tours.

Hari Krishnan

Co-founder and CTO at Specmatic, Founder, and CEO at Polarizer Technologies

Co-creator of Specmatic and Perfiz. I also advise organizations, both large and small, on their transformation journey. Apart from bringing ideas to life as working software products, I coach developers, project managers, product owners, and engineering leaders. I have spoken at several conferences, including AACoT 2023, API Specification Conference (#ASC2022), API World, SeleniumConf, Agile2021, Agile India, TestingUY 2021, SREConf, PyCon Singapore, RubyConf India. My areas of interest include distributed systems, concurrency, high-performance application architecture, coaching, and training.
