

Overview page:

Docs > Overview

Welcome to the Unbody documentation! Here you'll find everything you need to get started with Unbody, from setting up your account to integrating our AI functionalities into your applications.

1. I feel that the intro text is unnecessary here, and start the docs with “What is Unbody?”
2. The image on the overview page shows how Unbody works, so it would be nice to put that image inside the “How does Unbody work?” section.
3. For “What is Unbody?” I would prefer a bit detailed definition of the product.
4. For “Why Unbody?” I don't really like this first line “As 'AI-first' becomes the standard, much like 'mobile-first' did” could be something like “As AI-driven experiences become standard across digital platforms, users increasingly anticipate intelligent functionalities in every app and website.”
5. “Why Unbody?” should mention things in bullet points rather than a paragraph, Reading bullet points feels like reading less text, and reading a paragraph feels like reading a boring book.

How Does Unbody Work?

Unbody works in 3 essential steps:

1. Tell Unbody Where Your Data Is: Our platform can integrate data from virtually any source—documents, spreadsheets, images, videos, whether they're stored in Google Drive, SharePoint, Slack, or even locally on your desktop. This flexibility addresses the problem of scattered and fragmented data by centralizing and simplifying data access.

6. I would also probably read only the bold text and skip the paragraph here, it is better to have these in points

Reference: Infisical docs

